

GLOBAL HIGHTECH TEAMWORK

IHI Hauzer Techno Coating is an international high-tech organization, with over 210 employees and branches in Venlo, Barcelona, Yokohama, Shanghai and Olten. At our home base in Venlo, we develop and assemble plasma coating systems with vacuum, sputtering and arc evaporation technology, that find their way around the globe, to customers with notable names. At this medium-sized company, lines are still short and you can make a difference. Hauzer was founded in 1983 and became part of the Japanese IHI Group in 2008. The IHI Group is a group of more than 210 companies totalling up to 29,000 employees.

SENIOR SYSTEM ADMINISTRATOR

WHAT CHARACTERIZES THIS JOB?

The IT department is responsible for IT within the whole Hauzer Group existing out of 5 international locations. If needed you will visit these locations.

You will develop, manage and optimize the systems and set up process descriptions. You will inventory and analyze requirements of users and describe desired (new) functionalities. You will make proposals for adjustments of existing systems or for new systems, developing proofs of concept and testing them.

Based on your up to date knowhow you will advise on bottlenecks, risks, opportunities and developments in the field, which lead to improvements and/or costs reductions. At the same time you are an all-round worker, also taking turn in the IT helpdesk function.

Hauzer has the need for a flexible IT environment in order to support the growth strategy, in the near future Azure will play a significant role in this.
